'TAKE MADRID BY FRIDAY!' --HITLER

FRUIT SAVED BY WIND IN FEW AREAS

Extent of Loss Is Not Known Yet; Smudging
General in South

Providence sent a brisk wind through Orange county's rich citrus area last night and today to lessen the damage to lemons and oranges from the icy blasts from the northwest which held the Southland in its cold grip.

Without the providential wind Orange county citrus growers would have suffered high financial loss. As it was, the toll of the cold wave is expected to be heavy in this area in frozen fruit.

"Plenty of Damage"
It will be impossible for two or three weeks yet to know the exact extent of the damage, but H. G. Randall, assistant manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange, said today there was "plenty of damage" in the northern part of the county, especially in protected areas along the foothills where the warming effects of the wind were cut off.

The coldest weather in Southern California since 1922 brought temperatures as low as from 23 to 24 degrees in the foothill section, Randall said. Ice began forming on the ground as early as 11 o'clock last night. The ground was frozen. Pools of water under fruit trees were frozen. Fruit was frozen.

Major Freeze
It was a major freeze, and there were no orchard heaters unit in the unprotected areas of the county, Randall said. Lemons were expected to be damaged more than oranges, although ice formed on oranges in some parts of the county.

Orchard heaters cast their ruddy glow against a smoke-blackened sky as thousands of citrus growers and workers fought the cold wave during the night and early morning hours. The preventive firing left a heavy pall over part of Orange county, more in evidence in Los Angeles and surrounding counties.

La Habra Area Hit
Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs feared the greatest loss was in the La Habra citrus area, where the cold prevailed for long hours during the night and morning. Temperatures dropped to as low as 24 at 11 p. m., staying there until 2 a. m. It was warmer for a time, and then the mercury dropped suddenly back to the 24.

RED LEADER IN MEXICO

TAMPICO, Mex. (AP)—The tanker, Ruth, bringing Leon Trotsky to a haven in Mexico, arrived in the Panuco river, near Tampico, today.

Small detachments of soldiers and police guarded the docks to prevent trouble if a threatened demonstration of hostility to the exiled Bolshevik leader should be carried out by the Tamaulipas State Labor federation, an affiliate of the Confederation of Labor of Mexico.

A reception committee, including Sen. Diego Rivera, wife of the Mexican painter, was ready to hustle Trotsky off to an unannounced destination. Senora Rivera wore an Indian costume.

It was reliably reported President Lazaro Cardenas had put an airplane and a private railway car at Trotsky's disposition.

Mouths Water--and How!

It will be a feast of joy and a flow of wit--and other things conducive to conviviality when good fellows of the Elks lodge get together the latter part of February. What a menu for the exultant Elks lucky enough to put their feet under the heavily-laden table to be provided! Only those Elks who bring in a new member can partake of the good things at the magnificent dinner--unless they want to plunk down $7.50 for the privilege of making merry at the unique dinner event.

Will it be a sumptuous dinner?

Kuchel to Fight for Royalties on Oil

Board to Rule Out Car Chiselers

By ROCH BRADSHAW
Santa Ana has taken a similar stand. He answered 10 questions propounded by The Journal, which other board members refused to answer.

"I would seek to put an immediate stop to the practice--and perhaps take further action," said Finley.

He has only heard rumors, he said, about private use of county cars, and does not know if this equipment is used by employees.

He said, however, he will start an investigation to find out.

Such an investigation was conducted by the retiring board some months ago but what the outcome was has never been made public by the supervisors.

STATES VARY ON MEASURE

Nineteen Non-Ratifying
Legislatures Consider
Child-Labor Bill

By the Associated Press
President Roosevelt's appeal to the governors of 19 states to make the child labor amendment to the constitution a major item in their legislative programs brought varying reactions today, ranging from complete agreement to "eternal" opposition.

With ratification by 12 more states necessary before the amendment becomes part of the constitution, the President addressed his appeal yesterday to the 19 non-ratifying states holding regular sessions this year.

In addition, a special session of Kentucky's legislature probably will pass on the proposal. Gov. A. B. Chandler said he was amending his call for the session to ask ratification.

The amendment says, "The congress shall have power to limit, regulate, and prohibit the labor of persons under 18 years of age."

WILL EVACUATE U. S. CITIZENS

PEIPING, China. (AP)—Growing concern was felt today for the safety of Americans and other foreigners in Shensi and adjacent provinces where fresh outbreaks have been reported as a result of Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang's revolt at Sianfu, Dec. 12.

Capt. David Barrett, assistant U. S. military attaché in China, left for Loyang, Honan province, to investigate the safety of Americans in the affected areas and make preparations for their possible evacuation.

The British military attaché also has departed for Loyang on a similar mission.

Westover Would Ban Grand Jury

Abolishing of the county grand jury is the next step State Senator Harry C. Westover has included in his program of legislation.

Associated Press dispatches from Sacramento today said that Senator Westover on Monday will introduce a senate bill to abolish the annual grand jury system. Explaining his measure, he said it is designed to save money for the smaller counties in cases where annual grand jury meetings are unnecessary.

Then the Elks will take a deep breath. Liquors, including such fancy beverages as Les Peres Chartreuse, Monopole Champagne 1927 Vintage, Mumm's Special Brut Champagne, will then be placed before the Elks. After which they will sip coffee and smoke cigars and cigarettes.

CAR WORKERS MAKE PEACE OVERTURE

Will Remove 'Sit-Down'
Strikers if Parleys
With Unions Started

DETROIT. (AP)—The Automobile Workers in a statement today said it had informed Governor Frank Murphy it would "agree to immediate withdrawal of sit-down strikers in General Motors plants if negotiations are immediately opened, with recognition of the union."

There were additional stipulations, including one that strike closed plants remain shut down without movement of equipment or resumption of activities until a national settlement is effected.

Another stipulation was made that all activities, such as circulation of petitions, "organization of vigilantes," and "threatening of employees," must immediately be stopped.

93,849 Idle
The letter added: "You already have informed that General Motors will not subscribe to such a guarantee."

Tabulation of figures supplied by General Motors Corporation showed at least 93,849 of its employees out of work today in 30 of its units.

A total of 29,141 were idle because of strikes that closed 12 plants. In other units, where parts shortages because of the strikes caused shutdowns or curtailment of operations, at least 64,708 workers were idle.

Settlement Near
Since all General Motors operations halted today for the usual week-end holiday, it appeared the figures would stand until Monday. A week ago William S. Knudsen, executive vice president of the corporation, estimated 135,000 might be idle by tonight.

The strike scene extended from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts. The number of workers involved by walkout swelled to more than 150,000.

Conciliators in the Pacific coast maritime strike--72 days old and involving 40,000 men--welcomed the news that an accord was near between operators and six of seven striking unions.

T. G. Plant of the offshore shippers' negotiating committee said members hoped to agree with the seventh union--longshoremen--"in the next few days."

TUSTIN CITRUS RANCH SOLD

Sale of 10 acres of valuable citrus property was announced today.

Howard Timmons, Santa Ana, purchased the citrus acreage from Charles Grisest, Tustin rancher. The property is located at Newport road and Mitchell street.

While Timmons would not say what the sale price on the land was, The Journal was informed that the property went for more than $20,000, or more than $2000 an acre.

Two and a half acres of the Valencia orange land is interest with avocadoes. A residence in which Grisest lives was included in the deal. Grisest will continue to make his home there until after school term is over.

Cold? Ever Try Wearing a Pet White Rat?

DENVER. (AP)—The coldest weather in five years brought forth many anti-cold inventions in Denver but Bert Leach, 16, messenger boy, appeared with one of the simplest and most ingenious today. Leach appeared with a white rat in his muffler.

"My mother told me to keep my throat warm because I had a cold," he said.

"I put my pet white rat in my muffler. When I go out in the cold the rat snuggles down in the muffler to keep warm, and he heats my Adam's apple."

BROWNE MAY SPEAK YET

Three Local Men Plan
To Bring Lecturer,
Banned by School

Despite the fact that talks scheduled to be made here by Lewis E. Browne under auspices of the adult education department have been cancelled, the author and lecturer may talk here anyway.

The Journal learned today from Homer C. Chaney, director of the federal forum project, that a group of local men are making arrangements to bring Browne here for a series of lectures despite the storm of protests which followed his appearances here last year.

Three Men Interested
Chaney said that Robert Speed, Calvin Flint and the Rev. Perry F. Schrock are among the group interested in bringing Browne to Santa Ana. The plan is to underwrite his appearances here and charge admission for the lectures. Chaney pointed out that the federal forum project could have nothing to do with this plan, inasmuch as admission is to be charged.

Personally, the Rev. Mr. Schrock said today, "I hope he (Browne) comes here. I think it is too bad that the town is not open-minded enough to hear any man talk. I will be glad if the arrangements can be made."

Henderson Too Ill
In the meantime, Chaney had paid a visit to Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Henderson, who is ill in Long Beach, and confirmed the fact that Henderson had issued the order to Mrs. Golden Weston, director of the adult education department, to cancel the talks by Browne. Henderson, however, is too sick to give the matter much attention now.

Chaney expressed a determination to "get to the bottom of the matter" today. He wants to find out who or what group gave instructions to Henderson to cancel the talks. It may be, he indicated, that a secret meeting of the board of education was held for this purpose.

Report Monday On MWD Strike

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Directors of the Metropolitan Water District are to report Monday to a demand by union workers on the San Jacinto tunnel project for reinstatement of J. B. Eustice as field clerk.

A poll of several hundred men employed on the 13 mile bore beneath San Jacinto mountain disclosed majority sentiment in favor of a strike unless Eustice regains his job. Union officials charged he was ousted for union activities.

Elaine Sued for $10,000 Damages

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Joseph Benjamin Swartzberg, 16, is suing $10,000 from Elaine Baile, estranged bride of John Baile, more, for injuries which he alleged he received in a traffic collision involving Miss Baile's automobile.

The accident occurred last August. Swartzberg's suit, on file today, named Miss Baile's chauffeur, Nolan Volrie, as a co-defendant.

WILL DEMAND CUT FOR H. B. AND COUNTY

Sleeper Gives Figures
Showing Large Loss
Of Revenue Here

Orange county and Huntington Beach may get their "slice" of revenue from the $200,000,000 beach oil pool, after all.

Assemblyman Thomas Kuchel of Anaheim today informed The Journal in a wire from Sacramento he is preparing an amendment to Governor Merriam's bill, providing for 2 per cent royalties to Huntington Beach and 2 per cent to the county if the oil pool is thrown open to drilling through bids.

Sleeper Protests
Meanwhile another question came into the situation.

"Why should the state pick on Orange county," queried Assessor James Sleeper today, "when Santa Barbara and Ventura counties have oil wells out in the ocean, and I am informed are paying only 5 to 6 per cent royalty. There have been oil wells in the ocean in Santa Barbara county for years--why make fish of one county and flesh of another?"

State royalties totaled $665,826 for the year period from March 1, 1935 to March 1, 1936--money of which the county didn't get a cent, Sleeper pointed out. If the county and Huntington Beach had been able to assess that money, they would have received $1,578,71, he said.

"Should Get Busy"
The state would get a similar amount each year--probably more, he said, under Governor Merriam's bill, and Orange county would get nothing.

"Taxpayers of Orange County"
Sleeper said, "should get busy with their senator and representatives and demand that Orange county gets a fair deal in this oil controversy."

NEW PENSION BILL DRAWN

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Arthur L. Johnson, attorney for the California labor commission, awaited word today of introduction in congress of a new and "thoroughly practicable" pension bill which he drafted for Dr. F. E. Townsend.

The measure, Johnson said, provides a maximum of $200 a month for persons over 60 instead of a $200 minimum. This is one of 300 changes made by Johnson over previous Townsend plan legislation.

A 2 per cent transaction tax would be used to finance the old age pension, administration costs being paid first and the remainder granted to those eligible, Johnson said.

Rites Monday for Simon P. Soult

Funeral services for Simon P. Soult, who died Thursday at his home, 1502 Bush street, will be held Monday at 10 a. m. from the Winbigler mortuary chapel, it was announced today.

A sudden heart attack on Wednesday resulted in his death early Thursday. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Caroline Soult; a daughter, Mrs. Maud L. Brobst of Chanute, Kan., and a son, H. H. Soult, of Burlingame, Calif.

Snow Says Aide Resigned First

Mrs. Ada Ehlen, county welfare department case supervisor, had resigned when her "release" was announced yesterday, Jack W. Snow, new welfare director, reported today.

Snow yesterday appointed Miss Kathryn Adams with the announcement that she is replacing Mrs. Ehlen, "who is being released from departmental duties."

F. D. R. OKEHS FLOOD FUND

Congress Yet to Pass
On Appropriation for County Work

President Roosevelt placed his stamp of approval on Orange county's $15,000,000 water program late yesterday.

And by so doing, the President left but one more strand of national red tape to be cut before construction work on the great flood control and water conservation program can be started.

By recommending to congress that an appropriation of $20,000,000 be made for the next fiscal year to start flood control projects authorized in an omnibus act last session, the President asked that funds be allocated for the Orange county project for work on the first year of the program.

Included in Bill
Orange county's program, on which the government will spend about $13,000,000, is included in the omnibus act approved by congress at the last session.

The action of the President followed recommendation earlier this week by Major General E. M. Markham, chief of the U. S. army board of engineers, that congress appropriate $1,676,000 to launch construction work on the Santa Ana river flood control program. The $1,676,000 will be used for the work in the first year of construction, as was announced exclusively in The Journal.

The suggested $30,000,000, of which the President estimated $20,000,000 would be spent in the year beginning next July 1, was part of a total of $143,322,101 recommended for flood control and rivers and harbors improvements throughout the nation.

Congress Must Approve
Aside from Orange county putting up from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 to secure rights-of-way, all that remains now in the way of legal steps before the water program is set to go is that the actual appropriation be made by congress. It is expected that this will be done in the near future, inasmuch as the last congress approved the omnibus act.

Orange county has a bit of red tape to unwind before the program can be launched, however. The board of supervisors must yet call a bond election to raise money for purchase of rights-of-way. The amount of this election will depend on whether or not the county must pay for relocation of the railroad and highway in the Prado reservoir site.

Swastika Over the Schools!

Do the people of Santa Ana want their adult education department program censored and all new or different thoughts suppressed? Are they intelligent enough to be able to listen to the facts of life straight from the shoulder without going to pieces? Are they tolerant enough to listen to the other man's side of the question? What do you think? Read today's editorial on "It Can Happen Here!"

25,000 NAZI TROOPS AID FASCISTS

Thousands Land Daily
In Morocco; Germany
Has 3 Objectives

GERLIN. (AP)—Private German sources declared today Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler has told Spanish Insurgent General Francisco Franco to capture Madrid by Jan. 15. They asserted the Nazi chancellor has sent between 15,000 and 25,000 volunteers to the Fascist commander's aid and spent $180,000,000 to help the insurgents.

Thousands of German and Italian troops were reported today to be landing at the Spanish insurgent port of Cadiz.

The strictest secrecy prevails and the city, 60 miles from here on the western coast of the peninsula's tip, has become the mystery port of Europe.

8000 to Land
Steamers reported landing large numbers of "volunteers" to supplement Gen. Francisco Franco's insurgents. Fascists, fly no flags from their masts and their bows are bare of names.

The starwart looking foreigners disembark wearing brand new uniforms of the Spanish insurgent Foreign Legion.

At almost the moment they set foot on Spanish soil, reports said, they are crowded into troop trains and rushed to Seville.

Reports that 8000 more German troops are expected to land at Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, tomorrow, heightened concern tonight lest quick French intervention be necessary in the insurgent-controlled African sector.

Three Objectives
Hitler hopes to gain three objectives, informants said, in return for participating in the "Spanish adventure." They were reported as:

1. Colonies, lost after the World war.
 2. Mining concessions in Spain or its possessions.
 3. Economic aid from other European powers.
- Despite official denials of German assistance of the Spanish Fascists, the oft-repeated assertion that at least 15,000 men have gone to the civil war occurs with monotonous regularity.
- The repetition is broken only by those persons, whose information has proved reliable in the past, who set the estimate as high as 25,000.

Ask 70,000 Men
About 10,000 are soldiers of the Reich, these persons asserted. The rest, they said, are labor and youth organizations, together with some miners dispatched to work in the manganese ore mines in Morocco and Spain.

Generalissimo Franco, in need of reinforcements to culminate the 11 week siege if the capital with victory, has asked for a minimum of 70,000 men, informed persons stated.

Gen. Wilhelm Faupel, Nazi ambassador to the Spanish Fascist government, was reliably reported to have expressed the opinion not less than 130,000 men could insure an insurgent triumph.

450,000 Marks
Gen. Franco balked at destructive attacks on Madrid, at first, although his guns and planes have renewed their assaults recently without regard to Fascist property inside the city, the private sources asserted.

The estimate of German expenditures in the Spanish civil war was made by an informant in a position to know because of his connection with authoritative sources.

The cost, he said, was approximately 450,000,000 marks and was approved only after Nazi leaders felt some certainty they were on the winning side in the domestic conflict.

SEEK BETTER SERVICE ON WEATHER

Agriculture Officials to Ask Ample Time for Warnings

Agricultural commissioners of Southern California will bend every effort to insure a satisfactory broadcast service to warn growers of weather conditions.

The commissioners also will seek public support of the movement, it was indicated at yesterday's session of the Southern California Agricultural Commissioner's meeting in the courthouse annex.

Want Radio Time
Commissioners desire ample time on radio stations for the broadcast, and assurance of continuance of present forecasts by Floyd Young, government weather man. Commissioners present at the meeting also discussed weather forecasts as it affects pest control operators.

Another matter discussed was arriving at a uniform method of making county crop report returns on an f. o. b. basis.

Desirability of uniformity in requirements of the various counties for treatment of nursery stock, boxes, etc., infested with red and purple scale was discussed in regard to movement of nursery stock from one county to another.

Four Attend Meet
Installation of methyl bromide at the Orange county vacuum fumigator as a fumigant and possibility of its use in preparation of stock for inter-county movement was discussed.

Commissioners present included D. W. Tubbs, Orange county; A. H. Call, Ventura county; A. E. Bottel, Riverside county; and H. J. Ryan, Los Angeles county. Other commissioners could not be present because of the cold wave which swept over the Southland last night.

Publisher Nearly Locked in Safe

Because of his work, W. P. Hagthorn, publisher of the Orange County Reporter, legal newspaper, is practically a fixture in County Clerk J. M. Backs' office.

But it went too far last night. Hagthorn nearly got locked in the office safe, along with official papers and department cash.

County Clerk Backs, last of the office force to leave, swung shut the safe door, catching the tail of Hagthorn's coat, and had walked out before the publisher discovered his plight.

It took some lousy yelling to get the clerk back to release the hapless publisher.

BRIGHT MOMENTS

Sir Robert Walpole, when prime minister of England, at one session of parliament wanted to carry a question in the house of commons. He knew there would be quite a bit of opposition, and as he passed through the court of requests met a member whose avarice he imagined could not reject a large bribe. Calling him aside, he said: "Such a question comes up today and here is a bank note for 2000 pounds." The member looked at him and said: "Sir Robert, you have lately served some of my particular friends; and when my wife was last at court the king was very gracious to her, which must have been at your instance. I should therefore think myself very ungrateful," said he, putting the note in his purse, "if I were to refuse the favor you are now pleased to ask me."

SET RITES FOR HISTORY GROUP BRYANT GIRL NAMES BOARD

Funeral services were arranged today for Betty Bryant, 18-year-old Santa Ana Junior college student who was killed early yesterday when her father's car crashed into a heavy truck and trailer in Los Angeles county near Norwalk.

The services will be held Tuesday at 9 a. m. in the Holy Family Catholic church at Orange under direction of the Rev. Fr. E. J. Riordan. Rosary services will be held at 8:30 p. m. Sunday at the Gillingham funeral chapel and in the family home at 315 South Orange street at 8 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

The girl is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Bryant, and two sisters, Mary and Alice Bryant.

Japan has lowered hardware prices to hold its markets.

Directors of the Orange County Historical society were elected at an annual meeting of the society last night in the Bowers Memorial museum.

New members of the board are William McPherson, Mrs. J. E. Pleasants, Mrs. C. A. Riggs, Mrs. Anita L. Alexander, S. M. Davis, E. M. Sundquist and T. E. Stephenson.

The newly elected directors will meet in the near future to elect officers. In the absence of President T. E. Stephenson, William McPherson of Orange presided. Annual reports of officers were read and filed.

Two papers were read last night, one written by T. E. Stephenson on "A Horse Race of 1853," and another by William McPherson on "Recent California Books."

South Carolina and Georgia farmers paid 55 cents a hundred in 1936 for picking cotton, the lowest wage in the nation.

Art (the Great) Shires Retires

Art (former Whataman) Shires, who has talked himself into and out of such tight places as the baseball majors, jail and the prize ring, is ready to settle down. "I'm 29 years old. I'll never get another crack at the majors. There's no money in the minors. It's time for me to start looking for something else."

COURTS PLAN TWO GROUPS EQUALIZED SEAT NEW OFFICERS

A plan to equalize the work of Orange county's three superior court branches was announced today by Presiding Judge Homer G. Ames when he posted notice of court rules which will become effective Jan. 11.

Each day at 10 a. m. when courts open, all cases set for trial on that day will be called in Judge Ames' court, then assigned to the various branches. Under the present plan, each court calls its own calendar.

To Shift Extra Cases

New plans will make it possible to shift extra cases into courts in which cases regularly scheduled for trial fail to develop. It was pointed out. Assignments will be made when possible to the court which has heard demurrers, motions, or other preliminaries to the trial.

Judge Ames provided also that if all courts are busy on the day a case is scheduled to come to trial, it may be continued from day to day by the presiding judge and assigned to the first court available.

Precedence Determined

Precedence will be given to cases in which the people of the state of California are a party, that is, criminal and condemnation proceedings; second to injunction and similar proceedings; third to civil jury cases; and fourth to civil non-jury cases.

Ex-parte proceedings, which do not require scheduling ahead, are to be brought before the presiding judge, or if he is not available, to other judges able to hear them. Default divorces, actions to compromise claims of minors, and similar cases fall in this class.

LOBBY OPENED ON MARBLES

State legislators, besides their other worries, had a new problem to handle today.

They were being asked, unofficially, to see if something can't be done about licensing marble machines, some of which have been confiscated here and in other parts of the state on the opinion of Attorney General U. S. Webb that they are gambling devices.

Henry Foust, operator of most of the machines in Orange county, who padlocked his devices when Sheriff Logan Jackson began a drive on them, said today he understood a movement was on foot for licensing the devices on a statewide basis.

"I know nothing officially about it," he said. "I haven't had correspondence with any state officials on the subject, but I know they are working on such legislation. I don't know how they can work it if they claim the marble games are gambling, though."

"I'll say this, though. A marble table—some marble tables—positively is not a gambling device. We have a skill law in this country and I'll bet $25,000 that I can prove that skill is involved."

Several cities in California licensed devices previous to Webb's expression of opinion that the machines were gambling devices.

Jail Term for Woman Ordered

Mrs. Mildred F. Moore, Santa Ana, must serve 30 days in the county jail, but her daughter, Lucille Burrier, will go free, Superior Judge G. K. Scovel ruled yesterday when the two women appealed a peace disturbance conviction to his court.

Both were found guilty by Justice of the Peace Chris P. Pann, Huntington Beach, on complaint of another daughter, Mrs. Helen Preston, that they staged a family row and hair-pulling melee at her home in Stanton Nov. 21. Judge Pann sentenced each to 30 days in jail.

Judge Scovel ruled that Mrs.

Sons and Daughters of Union Veterans installed their 1937 officers jointly last night in ceremonies in the M. W. A. hall, C. F. Millen of Santa Ana, department commander of California and the Pacific region, installing for the sons, and Mrs. Emma Strain of Los Angeles, department president of the auxiliary, acting as installing officer for Sarah A. Rounts tent.

The new officers of Santa Ana tent are Perry Groat, commander, succeeding E. A. Bell; C. C. Cozad, senior vice-commander; R. S. Thompson, junior vice-commander; E. A. Bell, C. E. Brayton, and Roy N. Pollock, camp council; J. R. Moore, secretary; E. J. Parker, treasurer; R. Earl Elliott, chaplain; C. F. Millen, patriotic instructor; C. E. Brayton, color bearer; W. I. Davis, guide; J. H. McHugh, drum major.

The Daughters installation followed that of the Sons, Martha Stringer of Pasadena assisting Mrs. Strain as installing guide in inducting the following officers:

Beren Baker, president; Jessie Crockett, acting president; Ella Smith, senior vice president; Fanny Nau, junior vice president; Grace Benjamin, chaplain; Jessie Overton, Nettie Griswold and Florence Perry, council members; Clara McCord, patriotic instructor; Lucinda Hill, secretary; Lena C. Hewitt, press correspondent; Thelma Willingham, guide; Florence Price, guard; Nellie Parker, assistant guard; Pearl Nelson, Anna Cozad, and Jessie Hogland, color bearers.

One hundred and fifty members and friends of the two organizations attended the installation ceremonies, which were marked by a musical program. A number of department officers of the comrades and auxiliaries were present.

Hunter Decides On Snooze With Car Stuck in Sand

There are several things you can do if you get your car stuck in the sand. One of them is to go to sleep.

And that's what a Mr. Johnson of Buena Park did last night. There are several Mr. Johnsons in Buena Park, but this was just one. And the sheriff's office didn't indicate which. A Mr. Johnson, anyhow.

Mrs. Johnson, the wife of Mr. Johnson, called the sheriff's office early this morning. Mrs. Johnson was a bit worried. Mr. Johnson had left yesterday to go hunting in the Santa Ana river bed near Talbert road. And Mr. Johnson hadn't returned.

Sheriff's officers started out. First place to look for Mr. Johnson, naturally, was the place the ground around Anaheim, but no firing, and a minimum of about 30 degrees, Tubbs said.

The Orange-Olive-Villa Park district suffered little, the protecting wind coming to the aid of growers. North of Orange the lowest temperature recorded was 30 degrees at 6:48 a. m. In the Tustin-Santa Ana district, it was reported, the lowest temperature was 30 degrees between 7 and 7:30 a. m. with no need for firing heaters.

18 In Hemet throughout the entire citrus belt ranged from an unofficial reading of 18 degrees in Hemet Valley in Riverside county, up to 31 degrees in Rialto and Fontana in San Bernardino county. Warned by weather forecasters, 16,000 citrus men tied 5,000,000 smudge pots going all night, consuming an estimated 32,400,000 gallons of oil.

W. A. Brunton, assistant sales manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors, Redlands, said there is "bound to be damage" as a result of the freeze.

20 At Glendale
F. G. Webber, secretary-manager of the Sierra Madre-Lamanda Park Citrus Association, said 15 per cent of the association's 2,200 acres were unprotected and probably suffered "heavy damage."

The official minimum in Los Angeles was 31.8 degrees, the coldest here since Jan. 20, 1922, when it was 31.7.

In Glendale a minimum of 20 degrees was the lowest in the eight years accurate records have been kept there.

To meet an emergency caused by exhaustion of oil supply following the heavy firing last night, one of the leading oil supply companies servicing citrus growers kept two men on duty all night and this morning, buying all the oil it could.

L. A. AND S. F. CONFISCATE PIN GAMES

San Francisco and Los Angeles counties today had followed the lead of Orange county in confiscating thousands of dollars' worth of marble pin-ball machines in sheriff's raids.

One hundred and fifty punchboards, marble, and slot machines valued at $10,000 were seized by the sheriff's vice detail in Los Angeles yesterday, following similar raids in San Francisco Thursday in which more than 100 marble games were confiscated by city and county authorities.

The seizures, in which Orange county led the way among counties of the state, followed a demand by Attorney General U. S. Webb that gambling be cleaned up in California. At a recent conference with peace officers in San Francisco, Webb said the marble games were illegal and also said confiscation of the machines was an entirely legal way to rid the counties of them, rather than going to the expense to taxpayers of long and involved prosecutions over each machine.

If the owners believe the machines are legal, Webb pointed out, they must file suit against the confiscating officer for return of the devices. That would bring a test of the machines' legality into court.

Sheriff Logan Jackson has seized half a dozen machines in the county, and hundreds of other devices have been reported wired shut.

BOLEROS POPULAR AGAIN

NEW YORK. — Bolero jackets have staged a "come-back" in mid-season fashions. They vary all the way from the extremely short type, trimmed in Dalmatian embroidery, gold-braided loops and velvet, to somewhat longer, plain-colored jackets edged in printed silks. Designers predict great popularity for them in the spring.

December sales to consumers in the United States aggregated 173,472 units, against 155,552 in November, and 122,198 in December a year ago. The latest total is a record since May, 1928, when 186,925 units were sold to U. S. consumers.

EUROPE IN MAD SCRAMBLE FOR AMERICAN PLANES

NEW YORK. (AP)—Charles H. Babb of Glendale, Calif., one of the country's leading brokers and exporters of used airplanes, disclosed today the story of frantic Spanish buying of aviation equipment here until the neutrality law was passed.

"Through our own authentic underground channels," he said, "I learned that the Madrid government, fearing the rebels would take the country and seize administration funds as loot, sent $400,000 to Paris for one reason—to buy airplanes, arms and ammunition."

"The money, now being spent from Moscow, Paris and London, is being administered by agents eager to buy anything faintly resembling arms and ammunition. Only through spending do they get their commissions, and they spend without regard for price."

Anything Goes
Asserting that he has never sold a military plane, although the largest exporter of used commercial ships in the country, Babb declared brokers here received innumerable requests for information on available planes "with price no object, immediate delivery imperative, and conditions of airplane given no consideration."

"Those who took advantage of conditions to sell anything they could get off the ground for these prices are newcomers to this field of aviation," Babb said.

He said the neutrality act, "if improperly administered and unclarified," might harm America's aviation industry from the small brokerage businesses up to development of commercial and military ships.

Hurt Aviation
"On the whole," he said, "I think a real neutrality act is essential to the country, regardless of whose business it affects. This law, however, should have been specific in its definition of instruments of war. Under the act of our 1935-36 exports of $16,000,000 worth of aviation equipment, largely commercial, would be instruments of war."

"As the law stands, it may hurt development of American aviation, manufacturing and sales."

He said that the present law would hold sellers of airplanes abroad responsible for the ultimate destination of ships regardless of to whom they were originally sold or for what purpose.

GIRL'S LIFE SAVED BY OFFICER

Quick action on the part of a first-aid-trained Santa Ana police officer late last night probably saved a Costa Mesa girl's life.

Mary Elizabeth Grupe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Grupe of Costa Mesa, was severely cut in an auto accident near the Martin airport. Officers J. B. Foster, Paul Cozad, and Sergeant J. F. McWilliams answered an emergency call while ambulances and California Highway Patrol Officer Dan Adams were reaching the scene.

They found the girl bleeding seriously from a cut across the side of her head. With blood gushing from the vital temporal artery, McWilliams applied pressure near the wound to stop the bleeding. Then she was rushed to the

The few Dons who have braved the wintry weather to limber up muscles at Poly field have received only a sample of the icy wind which Ohio State and other eastern college athletes annually encounter in their workouts. Bill Cook will not conduct formal drill among his Dons until next semester. Those who wish, he said, may come out twice a week during January.

SANTA ANITA STARS PLAY

After two weeks of inclement weather, Manager Frank Billia calls out his Santa Anita all-stars to play Todd's cloisters in baseball on their West First street diamond tomorrow afternoon.

The remainder of the lineup will have Sweet at first, Stives on second, McKinney at shortstop, Munoz on third, and Thaten, Bell and Lindsey in the outfield.

Completely stealing the thunder of the varsity, Coach Joe Koo-gler's flashy Class Bees of Santa Ana High school had victory in their grasp only to lose a 25-23 thriller to San Diego's lightweights in Coast league basketball here last night.

The preliminary was a colorful, see-saw treat to a varsity encounter which San Diego easily won from Coach Reece (Pinky) Greene's Saints, 37-16, and fans who came late missed the best entertainment of the evening.

Preliminary Thrills

The Class A game suffered in comparison with the thrills of the court-raisers. Unless Santa Ana's varsity shows more than it did last night, the Saints face the unpleasant prospect of finishing dead last in their league again, because Alhambra showed championship form in turning back a good Long Beach Wilson five, 27-20, and San Diego Hoover did not appear so weak in losing to Long Beach Poly, 35-17, last night.

Except for some flashy scoring by Capt. Sam Lockhart, who swished nine points through the basket in long range, the Saints showed little offense. Their defense clicked fairly well until it cracked miserably in the second half, when San Diego became extremely "hot" on one-handed shots from side-court.

Apparently over-anxious, the Saint lightweights passed wildly at times and missed numerous set-ups. The defeat, it is believed, will do them about as much good as harm, because by flashing their true colors in the remaining games they may win the title. Alhambra and San Diego Hoover, as well as Long Beach Poly, all have powerful Class B entries, and it is improbable that any quintet will go through undefeated. The Saints appeared superior to San Diego's Hillers.

Russell Duffel, veteran, contributed some fine shots last night to roll up nine points, but anywhere near form, he would have scored 15. Maurice Young played well at guard to score 6 points. Elson Gaebe played a fair game at center, and Marvin Webb was steady at a guard post.

The Saint lightweights must win from Long Beach Poly in the lat-

Trojans Top Bruin Five 41 TO 31

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Southern California's trojans were off to a flying start today in the southern division basketball race at the expense of their cross-town rivals, the Bruins of U. C. L. A.

Opening league play before 8000 fans at Pan-Pacific auditorium, Southern California waltzed off with an easy 41-31 victory after trailing 23-20 at the half, last night.

It was the 17th triumph in a row over the Bruins since they last managed to beat a Trojan quintet back in 1922. With neither team touted as the title-winner in the Pacific Coast conference, they staged a close battle in the first period. The Bruins had a 3-point margin at the intermission, but their offense stalled before the ball-control system of Southern California.

While Southern California countered with 17 points, U. C. L. A. went scoreless until the last four minutes.

Jerry Gracin, Southern California forward, was high-point man with 15. Orr Appleby tallied 13 for U. C. L. A.

OFFICIALS OF P.G.A. RENEW SQUABBLING

Tournament Schedule to Continue in Spite of Present Dissension

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Members of the National Professional Golfers association went about their business of playing golf today, but a close watch for developments in a long-range squabble between high and ex-high officers.

Principals in the argument were President George R. Jacobus of the P. G. A. and Robert E. Harlow, until last month manager of the association's all-important tournament bureau.

Members, numbering the rank and file of the nation's golf pros, were concerned chiefly with the fate of the bureau, their go-between agency in arranging cash-prize tournaments and many other matters of financial importance. Ed Dudley, Augusta, Ga., player-chairman of the bureau and Fred Corcoran, newly named manager, declared the tournament schedule would go on, and listed dates through early April.

Harlow, coming here from Florida to catch all the pros together appearing in the Los Angeles open, continued efforts to gain support in having his dismissal reopened, and charged that Jacobus was trying to set up "a political machine for himself" in the P. G. A. organization.

Jacobus, in a statement sent the Associated Press from his home at Sarasota, Fla., declared the case was definitely closed and said Harlow's moves to regain the job were based "on personalities."

The pros themselves kept diplomatically quiet, hoping that if anyone is the loser it won't be the P. G. A.

Harlow called for aid at a meeting he held last night, attended by 28 P. G. A. members. He said he had necessary signatures to force the executive committee to hold a hearing on his case.

The tournament scheduled and authorized by Chairman Dudley, included: Jan. 15-17, $5000 Oakland Open; Jan. 22-24, $3000 Sacramento Open; Jan. 29-31, $5000 San Francisco Open; Feb. 6-7, $3000 Bing Crosby amateur-pro.

Venturi Looms as Title Contender In Ambers' Draw

NEW YORK. (AP)—When Lou Ambers' six months of grace are up, he will be ready to defend his lightweight championship, he'll probably have a ready-made challenger for the title.

Enrico Venturi, the Italian flash, was ready to move into that No. 1 spot today after an unsatisfactory 10-round distance appearance in an overweight match at Madison Square Garden last night.

He had won a dozen bouts in this country before meeting Ambers. A crowd of close to 10,000 fans, who paid $18.80, greeted the draw decision with a round of derisive booing. Many thought Venturi had handed Ambers his third setback during his championship reign.

Venturi, after the first three rounds in which his extra caution allowed Ambers to pile up a point margin, went to work. He hit the "Herkimer Hurricane" almost at will and made the champ miss badly with his dangerous right.

Although Ambers scored the only knockdown when he dropped Venturi for a one count with a right-hand smash in the second, the Associated Press score card credited six rounds to the Italian and three to the titleholder.

Grant Faces Don Budge

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—Don Budge, the nation's ranking amateur tennis player, and Bryan (Betsy) Grant, long a nemesis to favored net stars, came together today in the finals of the Miami Biltmore tournament.

The test with Grant gave the tall, red-haired smasher from Oakland, Calif., his first chance to justify his newly acquired No. 1 national ranking against formidable opposition.

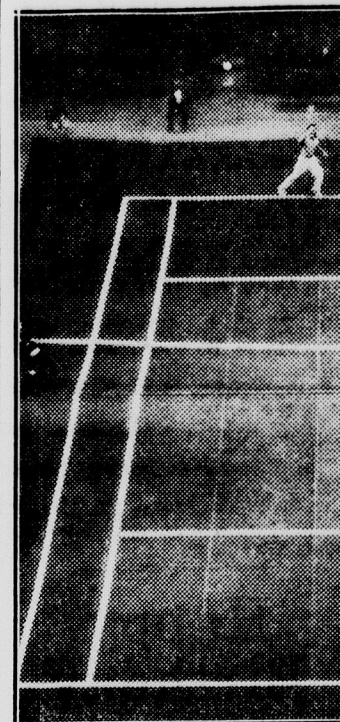

The tiny Allantian—listed No. 3 in the nation—took revenge yesterday in the semi-final round over Arthur Hendrix, Lakeland, Fla., racket swinger who put him out of the 1936 Miami Biltmore.

BURNS OF MAT FAME DIES

'Farmer' Met 6000 Rivals

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (AP)—Death removed Martin (Farmer) Burns, dean of professional wrestlers, from the American sports scene last night.

Although nearly 77 years old, he still offered to meet all comers until his health failed a few months ago. He died at his daughter's home.

Burns had been connected with the wrestling sport, as performer and trainer, more than a half century. He was holder of the world's heavyweight championship from 1895 to 1898 and discoverer and tutor of Frank Gotch, one of the nation's greatest wrestlers, who retired as undefeated world champion.

The "farmer," a sobriquet he acquired when a gangling youth of 19, won the world's heavyweight title by throwing the original Strangler (Evan) Lewis in Chicago. He lost it to Tom Jenkins. Then and later he was legitimately a light-heavyweight, never having weighed more than 180 pounds.

He claimed the light-heavyweight title even before his heavyweight championship days, and held it until 1911 when it passed on to Freddie Beel.

During his career he engaged in approximately 6000 bouts, claiming to have lost only seven. It was his boast that he taught 3000 men to wrestle.

Burns' neck and shoulder muscles were so well developed that as a carnival stunt he would take the regulation drop with the hangman's noose around his neck, and engage spectators in conversation while suspended.

BOYCOTT MAY PERIL FIGHT BETWEEN CHAMP, MOXIE

NEW YORK. (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs has expressed concern over a proposed boycott of the Jim Braddock-Max Schmeling heavyweight championship bout in June by the nonsectarian and anti-Nazi league, of which Samuel Untermeyer is president.

Jacobs was informed of the boycott by Mortimer B. Zerkwick, the league's director of public relations. Mike referred him to Madison Square Garden, promoter of the title fight, and then summoned his lawyer, Sol Strauss.

Jacobs obtained an option on Schmeling's services after the Teuton knocked out Joe Louis last summer. The promoter is concerned over the league's action because, he said, Schmeling owes him $31,000.

"I've asked my lawyer to talk to Mr. Zerkwick to see if the league won't call off the boycott."

The boycott also was viewed with concern by Joe Gould, Braddock's manager.

"If it goes through," said Gould, "it won't permit Jim to fight Schmeling."

John Reed Kilpatrick, president of the Garden corporation, said, "It has been the policy of the Garden to run its business and it will continue to do so."

Untermeyer is vacationing at Palm Springs, Calif.

San Juan Capistrano's Congress, coached by Gil Strother, got off to an auspicious start with a 22-15 victory at Laguna Beach. Capistrano made a triple-killing over its only rival by annexing the Class B game, 21-13, and the Class C preliminary, 18-9.

Tustin turned on the heat in the second quarter to score 15 points, after Valencia's Tigers had rolled up a 7-6 advantage in the first quarter.

Larry Monroy went on the rampage at his guard position to help the Tustin cause with 14 points, and as usual, the Francis brothers—Sam and Paul—were hitting the ring. Sam scored 11 points, his smaller brother 8. The Linker combination—Vic and Walt—accounted for 10 digits between them.

Del Jones, Valencia's all-around athlete, was the big gun of the host's assault with 12 points.

There will be no outstanding games in the second round of the minor division schedule next week and unless Brea, undefeated in league competition, rises up to halt San Juan Capistrano, Tustin will be favored over Laguna Beach in a contest at Tustin.

PERRY DEFEATS VINES AGAIN

CHICAGO. (AP)—Fred Perry of England, whom the tennis experts conceded little chance of defeating Ellsworth Vines of California before their exhibition tour started, goes after his third straight victory at the Chicago stadium today.

The lanky Perry, who conquered the Californians in New York Wednesday, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4, followed up the victory at Cleveland last night by taking Vines into camp again, this time 13-11, 6-3. Only 3000 fans braved rainy weather to see the top-ranking net pros in contrast with 16,000 spectators at the New York inaugural.

Winner of Stein-Cantonwine Bout May Wrestle Champ

Two of the most daring and spectacular heavyweight wrestlers on the Pacific coast—Howard (Hangman) Cantonwine and Sammy Stein, clash Monday night at the Orange County Athletic club in a match that may give the winner a crack at either Champion Dean Detton or former champion, Vincent Lopez.

Returning here from a two-week trip to the Pacific Northwest yesterday, Promoter Sampson opened negotiations for a Lopez match for this month and also a bout featuring Champion Detton.

He indicated that he would consider the winner of Monday night bouts for either of the two proposed bouts.

Huntington Beach High school's championship reign in Orange County Prep league basketball was shaken by a severe jolt today in the form of a 27-26 defeat from Newport Harbor's Sailors on the latter's floor last night.

Replacing the Oilers in early reckoning were the Anaheim Colonists, who crushed the Argonauts at Garden Grove by the convincing score of 39 to 17.

Newport Harbor closed with a wild finish to break the hearts of Coach Leon Moring, who was beaten by the Oilers who swept to the league title in impressive fashion last winter.

A close game all the way, the contest turned into a see-saw affair at the start of the fourth quarter, with the Sailors forging into a 3-point lead in the waning minutes of play. Coach Leon Moring's Oilers came within a point of tying the score in the last few seconds.

Kelley was high for the winners with nine points, although team-mates Higgins and Sullivan were right behind with 8 and 7. Talbert of the Oilers carried off high-points honors with 11.

Grove Bees Triumph
There wasn't much to the Anaheim-Garden Grove game. Defeated in the Class B preliminary by one point, 22-21, Dick Giguere's Colonists dominated the varsity feature from the opening whistle to the final gun.

High-scorer for both teams was Ted DeVillibus with 10 counters. Feature of next week's major division round will be the Newport-Anaheim game at Anaheim. Orange's Panthers will make their debut at Huntington Beach.

STATE TO REMOVE FLOOD DEATH TRAP ON CAPISTRANO ROAD

DRAINAGE IS SOUGHT FOR DISTRICT

Control of Flood Water
Planned by Highway
Budget for 1937

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—Removal of the death trap which swirling flood waters annually threaten motorists at Galivan crossing six miles north of Capistrano, is contemplated by state highway officials, it was announced here today.

Approximately $25,000 will be spent for protection of the strip of road where torrents of mud and water sweep across the highway from nearby hills, according to the state highway budget for the biennium.

Many motorists have been threatened by floods during rainy seasons, residents claimed, as flood waters from Bear creek and their cars destroyed or badly damaged.

Work by the state highway department will consist mainly of correction of drainage, and will cover a distance of about six miles, from San Juan Capistrano to the Galivan overhead crossing.

Another highway project of interest here is resurfacing of nearly two miles of Ortega highway east of this community. Cost of the work has been set at $45,000. The highway will be widened for that distance from the mission village, it was reported.

CROSS HONORS RUSSELL HURST

WINTERSBURG.—An impressive service was observed at the Community Methodist church recently when a lighted cross in memory of the late Russell Hurst was presented to the church by members of his family who reside in the East, his widow, Mrs. Muriel Hurst and her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Moore.

The Rev. J. H. Thompson presented the cross and W. F. Slater accepted for the church. Preceding lighting of the cross, Mrs. J. T. Tucker read "Thou Whose Almighty Word" and John Moody sang "The Old Rugged Cross." The prayer of dedication was given by the pastor and the congregation united in singing "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

CHURCH BOARD NAMES PASTOR

SILVER ACRES.—Adoption of a constitution and discussion of by-laws featured the annual meeting of the Community church held this week. Announcement was made that the Rev. Mr. Richardson of Anaheim had accepted the call to become pastor of the church.

He will assume his duties immediately. A nominating committee to name officers and board members will be chosen following the regular church service Sunday.

WATER LOSS

(Tustin News)—Again Orange county landowners have had brought to their attention the water waste suffered by lack of impounding reservoirs along the course of the Santa Ana river, when a run-off of 1000 cubic feet of water was allowed to have emptied into the ocean during the peak of last week's precipitation, has occurred every year since water conservation and flood control first became of major importance in Orange county.

To say that no progress has been made toward solving the problem is over-stating the situation, but it is not too much to say that such waste is a reflection upon the good sense of our people. There is every reason to believe that the present water program will be carried to completion, with the federal government standing most of the expense. However it will be necessary for a county bond issue to meet a portion of the cost, and this latest water loss should emphasize the importance of a favorable vote upon the bonds.

ALONG THE COUNTY'S WATERFRONT

REPORTS that Newport Bay was frozen over during the most recent cold spell were indignantly denied by Harbormaster Tommy Bouchy this morning.

However, he is seriously considering posting a warning to all boat operators to proceed at half-speed and keep a close watch for icebergs, the harbormaster added.

And with that hint to boat owners, we'll swing into our weekly discussion of the harbor 'n' things.

"Breezin' Thru," 140-foot diesel yacht owned by J. L. Montgomery of Detroit, is still anchored at Newport.

Owner of the craft—which really can be classed as "palatial," must like the harbor. Happened in for the Christmas regatta, and is still there, in spite of the fact he dragged anchor during the recent storm, and almost was in an embarrassing spot.

Angling-minded boaters might just as well plan to do a bit of trying tomorrow. Unless the weather man's haywire we should have some clear and snappy weather, just right for bonita, and many are expected to try luring the fighters.

That sterling poet, Lylin' Scotsman, J. of Newport, reports that huge schools of bonita are scampering around, and may start in the regular winter run at any time now. In the meantime, commercial men are slaughtering the mackerel, and nothing much else is doing.

The same fishing authority has placed himself along with some of his finny friends, inasmuch as he's taken to predicting when and where fish will bite. Also why.

At 10:30 a. m. Feb. 22 the croaker will begin to bite near the jetty in the harbor, he claims. They will form a long line outside the jetties, and will file into the bay at that hour, according to his prediction.

He claims psychic powers, or something.

Repairs, painting, inspection and whatever else is needed—that's why J. D. Brunton's "Edybee" is out of the water at the Balboa Yacht Basin. The new 25-foot Chris Craft cruiser will be ready for action soon.

Lots of others now preparing for the early spring boating. Voorhies, Montebello, is giving his boat a belated Christmas present at Beecher's Boat Landing. New Ford V-8 power plant. James Rubel, prominent Lido Islander, has his almost new "Jimjane," model 102 Dodge, out briefly at the South Coast. Little pair of refitting. T. E. Johnson, Pomona, putting new cabin on his "Heather," 41-foot sloop, also at South Coast.

Nomination for one of best-arranged craft on the bay: Tom Hynson's "El Mirador," sportsfisherman.

Even if he is a newspaperman, Hynson has one of the nicest and most comfortable craft anywhere. She's 34 feet, with better than nine-foot beam. Sleeps four, has one of the most perfect saloons you've ever seen, and all other necessities for comfortable cruising.

Right now she's being prettied up for spring season. Jack Reis welds paint brushes 'n' things.

And now we'll pity the rent-boat man for a bit. When the summer's sun comes down, his work has only just begun. All winter long owners of Newport Bay's fleets of rent boats do double duty readying their craft for another busy summer.

A boat, anyway, is never finished, according to J. B. McNally, who said his investment, in rent boats has reached $25,000 and that all of them were built on Newport Bay, by Newport boatbuilders.

bay last summer. Overhauled this winter, steering gears have been reinforced and motor water intakes enlarged. Summer renters, it seems, almost tore wheels out of the boats and burned out motors in attempts at flashy starts from the float.

There being no chance to change the custom, McNally has changed the boats.

Sailboats have been painted and gear and canvas overhauled. Capacity and power of the service boat has been increased in expectation of a record season.

Incidentally, if you're a boat owner, you'll be receiving a nice letter from the harbor department pretty soon. That is, unless you moor at some yacht landing.

It's time, the harbor department claims, to start worrying about mooring buoys. Harbormaster Bouchy, accomplished punster that he is, says "Buoys will be buoys, and they're getting all rusty and unreliable, so I'm advising owners to get busy on 'em at once."

The buoys must be painted white, and must carry the number allocated by the city. Thorough inspection of chains and other lines suggested. Treat your buoy right, and your boat won't end up on the beach!

That's all. Offer's still open—if you have any suggestions for this department, a penny postcard just might bring results. Who knows? If you like us, call up the boss and tell him about it. If you don't, whisper, very lowly, to the county editor!

CHAPTER XII

"I've made forced landings before," Linda continued. "and I saw my chance to escape, and managed to get that message to you. Then immediately after you left, Flame suddenly and strangely went away. But I was still a prisoner. Though it was not made too obvious, I knew I was under the guard of that man who came after me this evening in the cafe—the man I wounded. He's a Eurasian, I think."

"Before leaving, Flame had hastily told me that he had received a radio message from Crab Island that made it necessary for him to return there immediately, but that I must remain in Hong Kong to protect my uncle's interests here until he could return. Some sort of crisis, he said, had arisen at Crab Island. But I feel sure that the whole story was a lie, and I fear that, if he reaches Crab Island before you and I, Tommy, can get there, my uncle may never leave the island."

"How did Flame leave here?" "The way we arrived. By submarine. You saw the three fish-like tanks. Under one of them was the submarine. That, and the special radio wave length and code, have been their means of secret communication between Crab Island and the outer world. The submarine is the means by which, for years, they have taken supplies to Crab Island."

As she paused for a moment, Tommy said: "Go back a bit, Linda, and tell us more about your arrival at Crab Island."

"Well," she resumed, "after we had towed my plane farther out to sea and left it afloat with a time fuse attached, we submerged. About an hour or so later, we came up inside a great cave that has a deep water basin at high tide. We left the submarine there, and I was taken through underground passageways to the interior of the island."

"From the shoreline it appears uninhabited. Only from the air could anyone discover that a whole community is living there. The wireless tower is camouflaged to look like a tree, with bare branches. Among the natives of the Pacific, the island is believed to be bewitched by evil spirits that bring certain death to those who land there."

"Then who were the natives on the island?" "The two men exchanged glances. Then, Tommy said: "It means that, if what you are saying can possibly be true, then a nation that could secure possession of the secret of all this would never have to fear famine. Neither drought nor flood—nothing could bring food shortage to that nation. Why such a nation could rule the world!"

DAUGHTERS OF THE DANGEROUS LANDINGS

By LOIS BULL—Author of 'Captive Goddess'

When Linda Marshall, American girl, is lost over the Pacific on a solo round-the-world flight, Tommy Drew, who is in love with her, has secret knowledge that her disappearance was deliberate and is connected, in some way, with her uncle, Copernicus Marshall, a scientist supposed to have been lost, years ago, on an expedition in the Pacific.

Tommy goes out to Hong Kong, and a friend, Jerry Mitchell, newspaper man, discover that Linda is being held prisoner on an island off Hong Kong, and rescue her. She tells them her story. Her uncle, carrying on secret scientific experiments on Crab Island, has made a momentous discovery, but someone trying to get his secret from him, Linda had "disappeared" over the Pacific in order to visit him. She had been forced down just before she reached Crab Island.

"When you two came today, I saw my chance to escape, and managed to get that message to you. Then immediately after you left, Flame suddenly and strangely went away. But I was still a prisoner. LILY PONS' NEW FILM, 'GIRL FROM PARIS,' OPENS AT BROADWAY

G. RAYMOND, OAKIE ALSO STARRED

Other Features Are on Bill Being Released at Theater Today

Again the golden voice of the world's premier coloratura soprano, Lily Pons, comes to the screen. The little opera star's second motion picture, "That Girl From Paris," opened today at the Fox Broadway theater.

Starred with the vivacious French prima donna are Gene Raymond and Jack Oakie, and Herman Bing, Mischa Auer, Frank Jenks, Lucille Ball and other well-known mirth-provokers are seen in supporting roles.

In addition, Manager Lester J. Fountain has signed an exclusive contract, "King of Hockey," with Ann Nagel and Dick Purcell. A Mickey Mouse in color, "On Ice," has been rebroadcast by request.

The music in "That Girl From Paris" is Miss Pons', abetted by Oakie, Raymond and a jazz band. Miss Pons, Raymond, Oakie and Gregory Gaye are the centers of the romantic interest. Reneging on her marriage to Gaye, Miss Pons attaches herself to the Oakie-Raymond orchestra in France and, as a stowaway, she reaches America. She also gets the boys in hot water with the immigration officers.

As the star attraction in Bing's roadhouse floor show, she falls in love with Raymond. She walks out on the boys who cut cards to marry her and thus prevent her deportation. When she is an opera diva about to make a successful debut, Oakie contrives a ridiculous situation again to save Miss Pons from Gaye and marry her to Raymond.

Miss Pons' melodic repertoire is a delight for all classes of music lovers. Among her vocalizations are three popular arias by Arthur Schwartz and Edward Heyman, "Seal It With a Kiss," "My Nephew from Nice" and "Call to Arms" Strauss, "Blue Danube Waltz," and Rossini's grand opera aria, "Una Voce Poco Fa" from "The Barber of Seville" also are outstanding numbers on her repertoire.

SONJA HENIE'S FILM BOOKED

Sonja Henie is a sensation in her first screen picture, "One in a Million," which will open at the Fox West Coast theater next Tuesday. A second feature, "Racing Lady," featuring Smith Ballew, Ann Dvorak and Harry Carey, is an added attraction.

Established star in one section of the show world, a skating ace, Miss Henie steps confidently into pictures with immediate success. Displaying from her first scene a vivid personality, a freshness and charm which get over with men and women alike, and proving a potentially fine actress as well as an outstanding exhibitionist, Miss Henie contributes a large share to the picture's rich and varied entertainment. Her skating, danced to the rhythms of music as something new on the screen offers delightful novelty and pictorial beauty.

The picture is by no means a one-name affair. Lavishly produced and ably directed, fattened with hilarious and assorted comedy and attuned to music and lyrics of distinction, "One in a Million" is earmarked as one of the best pictures of the year.

HOBOS MARCH ON ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK. (AP)—A mobilized hobo march on Washington to voice "demands" to President Roosevelt in the name of the "Knights of the Road" was announced today by the Hobo Fellowship headquarters.

The hoboes will start their march Jan. 15, hoping to reach the national capital in time for the "Congress of Hoboes" there Feb. 5, the announcement said.

Ralph E. Dalton, president of the fellowship, said the hoboes will ask President Roosevelt to make young hoboes—under 25 years old—return to their homes, and give members of the fellowship work in transient camps.

O.K. to Pay Tax For Employee

WASHINGTON. (AP)—If an employer wants to pay his employees' social security taxes, treasury officials said informally today, it's all right with them.

The law requires deductions from workers' pay envelopes, but officials said employers have the final liability for payment. They added there would be no attempt to enforce the letter of the law if employers paid the taxes themselves.

A Hartford, Conn., department store reported yesterday it would pay the tax for its employees. This raised the question of whether the sum paid as tax for the employee would be considered an increase in his salary and therefore subject to an additional tax itself.

American Woman, Born on Farm, Now on Way Toward Being Chinese 'Priestess'

(An insight into the early life of Agnes Smedley, reported in Chinese dispatches as being a power in the Communist movement in northwest China, is given in the following story.)

By ROGER D. GREENE
NEW YORK. (AP)—Heralded as a power in forging a new Communist empire in north China, Agnes Smedley, Oklahoma-born writer and champion of "down-trodden masses," troubled United States authorities on both sides of the continent during the World war.

Now in her early forties, the one time American girl who may become a virtual "White Empress" over yellow skinned millions was twice indicted by federal grand juries.

On March 27, 1918, she was indicted in New York for violation of the war time espionage act, held on $10,000 bail, and languished in Tombs prison for three months before the case was dropped for lack of evidence.

Fraud Attempt
Those were the jittery spy-scare days, and age-yellowed newspaper accounts of the case relate that Miss Smedley's "crime" was alleged responsibility for the publication of an alleged "German-inspired" book entitled "The Isolation of Japan in World Politics."

Again on June 11, 1918, a federal grand jury in San Francisco indicted her—this time on a charge of attempting to defraud President Woodrow Wilson through representing herself as a member of an accredited mission to the United States from the nationalist party in India.

Federal agents, who said she was known as Mrs. Agnes Brundin in San Francisco, accused her of complicity in a wild-eyed plot to free India, cause friction between the United States and Japan, and bring about an alliance between India and Bolshevik Russia.

Again the charges failed to jell. Sheets on Beds
Her life story, through the early formative years, was depicted in her autobiographical novel "Daughter of Earth," published in 1929—the chronicle of a girl who was born in an unknown village in Oklahoma and who grew up on a bleak and poverty-ridden farm in

REUNION AND THEODORA AT WALKER'S

Two of the most outstanding films produced in recent months are scheduled for the screen of Walker's theater for four days beginning Sunday. They are "Theodora Goes Wild" and "Reunion."

Irene Dunne is starred in "Theodora Goes Wild," which relates the intriguing story of a shy and modest small town girl who becomes a novelist under an assumed name. When the illustrator of her novels discovers her identity, he goes to live in her home town and they fall in love with each other. But the illustrator goes back to the city, Theodora follows him, and then engages in a series of hilarious escapades which bring her not only to the attention of the whole county, but most of all to the attention of her home town.

Melvyn Douglas is featured opposite Miss Dunne, while Thomas Mitchell, Thurston Hall, Rosalind Keith and Spring Byington are cast in principal supporting roles.

The Dionne quintuplets are the stars of "Reunion," which carries on where "The Country Doctor" left off. In the new picture is told the story of how the old country doctor, planning to retire and turn his practice over to his nephew, is induced to bring together for a reunion the 3000 persons whom he helped to bring into the world.

Gripping romance, searing tragedy and irresistible comedy result in the ensuing sequences, with the doctor playing the role of cupid, father-confessor and general straightener-out-of-affairs.

Jean Hersholt plays the country doctor again, and in the cast with the quintuplets are Rochelle Hudson, Helen Vinson, Slim Summerville, Robert Kent, Dorothy Peterson, John Qualen, Alan Dinehart, J. Edward Bromberg, Sara Haden, Margatu Love, Tom Moore and others.

A cartoon and newsreel complete the bill.

LIGHT BRIGADE COMING SOON

The sensational "Charge of the Light Brigade" has been booked by Manager Lester J. Fountain for the Fox Broadway theater for three days beginning Jan. 21. It is ranked as one of the season's big pictures.

In every phase, big is the only term adequately descriptive. At any time and in any place the picture, which is inspired by Lord Tennyson's saga of heroism and sacrifice, is 100 per cent entertaining. The action-packed and suspense-packed motivation blends thrilling historical fact with heart-touching romantic and dramatic fiction.

The emotion-arousing story is a simple and wonderful tale of courage and sacrifice in love and war. In India, brothers vie for the love of a girl. Her heart knowing not which way to turn, she fears to make a choice. Fraternal and romantic conflict ensues. Martial military combat in the most treacherous of the world's wars, and trachery have places, is a vibrant counterpoint.

In authentic and imagination-gripping realism the sequences depicting a Persian expedition seize of Chukoti and the bloody massacre that follows as well as murderous treachery on the river are reproduced. Out of the horror of this warfare comes the soldiers' realization of where the woman's love lies.

The leading parts are taken by Errol Flynn, Patric Knowles, Olivia de Havilland, C. Henry Gordon, Henry Stephenson, Nigel Bruce, Donald Crisp, Robert Barrat and Spring Byington.

She was a big girl before she even learned that some people slept between sheets and had forks at meal times.

The daughter of an itinerant miner, she taught school to hard bodied miners at the age of 14, went to California to go to normal school, and eventually came to New York—to join the "Bohemian colony" then flourishing in Greenwich Village.

Two Novels
Miss Smedley went out to China in 1928 and worked for five years as a correspondent of several Indian papers and of the German newspaper "Frankfurter Zeitung."

In two further novels, "Chinese Destinies" and "China's Red Army Marches"—which were acclaimed by New York critics but never achieved the popularity of best-sellers—she portrayed the bitter struggle of China's peasant millions against so-called capitalist overlords.

Now reported as playing an important role in a Communist movement enlisting 250,000 armed Chinese, Miss Smedley has long been an arch opponent of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, whom she charged was more interested in wiping out the Communist forces in China than in fighting Japan.

"The Red army," she said, on a visit here in 1934, "is the soul of China."

"From a poor, bedraggled, ragged, ill-equipped fighting force going to battle often with only stones, sticks and spears, the Red army is now a beautifully trained body of almost 400,000 regulars with 600,000 irregulars. It is unbeatable, as Chiang Kai-Shek has learned. He has marched from defeat to defeat."

Victor Moore, the comedian, owns a Long Island poultry farm.

BELLAMY IS STARRED IN STATE FILM

With Ralph Bellamy in the starring role, "Straight From the Shoulder" tops the double bill opening Sunday at the State theater for an engagement of two days. The other feature picture is "California Trail," starring Buck Jones.

"Straight From the Shoulder" has for its plot the fearless attitude taken by an artist who, when he witnesses a gang killing, sketches the killers for the police, thus identifying them. The killers, pursued by the police, vow to "get" the artist, but they are thwarted by the courage of his young son. Romance also blooms in the film between Bellamy and Katherine Locke.

Others in the cast include David Holt, Andy Clyde, Purnell Pratt, Onslow Stevens, Chick Chandler and Noel Madison.

"California Trail" is a story of covered wagon days in the early west, relating the thrilling incidents that occur to a covered wagon caravan on its way to the coast. Helen Mack is co-starred with Jones.

A Popular Science short subject completes the bill.

DIETRICH FILM IS BOOKED

Like many another great work of genius, "The Garden of Allah," the desert romance which David O. Selznick has lately turned into a technicolor picture with Marlene Dietrich and Charles Boyer in the leading roles, was dependent for its creation upon an illness suffered by its author.

In turn, it secured for him undying fame.

Manager Lester J. Fountain has booked "The Garden of Allah" for four days at the Fox Broadway theater, starting Jan. 17.

Because of a nervous affliction, the novelist, Robert Hichens, found the endless noise and hurry of city life unbearable, and so went to far places in search of seclusion. He became a dweller in hotels and, as his fancy directed, he drifted to Sicily and then to North Africa.

"The Garden of Allah" offers Miss Dietrich her most colorful role to date as the beautiful Domini Enfield who flees to the Algerian desert to begin life anew, and there meets the handsome and mysterious Boris Androvsky (Charles Boyer) who is actually a Trappist monk who has fled from the monastery after taking the eternal vows.

A glorious romance develops under the spell of the desert moon and the story proceeds to a gripping climax and an unexpected denouement.

Basil Rathbone, C. Aubrey Smith, Tilly Losch, the internationally famous dancer, and Joseph Schildkraut are featured in the supporting cast which also includes John Carradine, Alan Marshall, Lucille Watson and Henry Brandon.

Marion Talley, who makes her movie debut as a singing star this fall, was one of the first singers to be recorded in sound film.

Pair Stars in 'Gold Diggers'

Dick Powell and Joan Blondell are the outstanding stars in "The Gold Diggers of 1937," current attraction at the Fox West Coast theater. The two stars are shown in the above picture.

CAGNEY STARS IN NEW FILM COMING HERE WEDNESDAY

Producer Douglas MacLean has brought James Cagney back in a typical knock-down-and-drag-out Cagney film in "Great Guy," which will open at the Fox Broadway theater next Wednesday. On the same program is "Career Woman," starring Claire Trevor and Michael Whalen.

As far as fistic action is concerned there is plenty of it in "Great Guy," especially in the last reel. The elements of comedy, romance and drama are plentiful. Satisfactory for the Cagney fans who like to see him swing his fists, the film presents James Burke, Edward Brophy, Henry Kolker, Robert Gleckler, Joseph Sawyer and Matty Fain in good performances.

Appointed a sealer of weights and measures, Cagney embarks on a one-man crusade to clean up the short weight racket. With the straight story interlarded with comedy romance involving Mae Clarke, the figure-head mayor, Douglas Wood, and the boss, Kolker. When Fain and Edward Gargan are kidnapped and man-handled for being honest, Cagney gathers enough evidence to show that Kolker is the brains behind the gang. Cagney is easy for

Walker's Plans Continuous Shows

Beginning today, continuous shows will be staged at Walker's theater.

On Saturdays and Sundays the continuous shows begin at 1 p. m., while on the other five days of the week they will start at 2 p. m. The new service is designed primarily to enable those persons to attend the theater who are seldom able to go to the show at night.

GOLD DIGGERS SHOWING AT WEST COAST

Every two years there is presented to the movie-fans of the world, under the title of "Gold Diggers," a big and merry melange of rich comedy, songs that become hits, and pretty, fast-stepping dancing girls by the hundreds.

"Gold Diggers of 1937," the current edition, opened at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday.

Dick Powell and Joan Blondell are the stars. It will be an unforgettable picture for both of them, because it was during the making of this big musical that the partnership was conducted. And it was on the day after their last scene together that they were married and started honeymooning.

A life insurance company suddenly finds itself in the show business, with the wild agent, Dick Powell, aided by Joan Blondell, Glenda Farrell, Lee Dixon and Rosalind Marquis, trying to keep Victor Moore, $1,000,000 policyholder, alive, while the heaves, Osgood Perkins and Charles D. Brown, seek to finish him.

About that premise is woven the laugh-provoking comedy, the dancing culminating in a black and white military silhouette scene which is an elaborate feature of the production.

Moore almost steals the show as he introduces a new character in the "Gold Diggers" series. Miss Marquis and Dixon are excellent, and the standbys, Powell, Miss Blondell add pace to the story as the pair of chieftains out after Moore. William Davidson, as a motto-slinging insurance executive, contributes a high caliber performance.

Officer

Mrs. Blanche Ebert, supreme worthy high priestess, and member of National Shrine No. 1 of Pittsburgh, Pa., last night paid her official visit to Damascus White Shrine No. 13 of Santa Ana.

More than one hundred members and visitors attended the meeting in her honor, and witnessed her according of escort honors and reception of a beautiful bouquet and gift.

Other visiting dignitaries so honored were Blanche Wheeler and Victoria Crouse, past supreme worthy high priestesses; Walter Combellach, supreme associate watchman of the shepherds of Calvary Shrine, Long Beach, and many others.

Nine new members were taken into the local Shrine, with Mabel Spizzy, Clarence Orton, Maybelle Moe, Ethel Schafer, Florence Williams, and Leighton Williams being initiated, and Mary Ziegler, Martha Garthe, and Lucy Conklin being affiliated.

A banquet at beautifully decorated tables preceded the meeting, and was under the direction of Helen Aubin. Eva Mae McConnell and Neil Beisel presided over the session, and Mr. Beisel was presented with a birthday cake and pottery gift in recognition of his recent anniversary.

COMMUNITY
PLAYERS NEED
AN "ERNEST"

Santa Ana Community Players are in earnest about their next play. And they need an Ernest for the title role.

The second in a series of try-outs for roles in the Players' new thespian venture, "The Importance of Being Ernest," will be held Tuesday evening, following the regular Barn meeting of the group.

So far no Ernest has shown up. Director Gladys Simpson Shafer said today. First tryouts were held last night, despite a near-freezing temperature in the Barn, and the reported scarcity of Ernests.

Agnes Brady and Mabel Pruitt are in charge of arrangements for the Tuesday meeting. They will present a short play, with embellishments for the evening. But don't forget, says Director Shafer, that try-outs for "Ernest" will follow. The new play will go into production as soon as a cast is chosen. Five men and four women divide the roles.

Of Mexico

Gathering at tables centered with Mexican cacti in bright-colored pottery and responding to roll call with the names of Mexican plants and flowers, members of the Santa Ana Garden Study club enjoyed a most delightful meeting yesterday at the C. M. Harrison home, 2109 Greenleaf street, to usher in the new year.

This was the first session after a brief vacation, and one of the highlights of the afternoon was hearing about a trip taken during the holiday season by Mrs. J. E. Paul, who was the club's guest speaker yesterday.

Mrs. Paul spoke about the many interesting places visited in Old Mexico, relating her experiences on her three-week journey to the capital.

Mrs. G. E. Gruettner also contributed to the program with a talk on "Culture of Begonias," on which she is recognized as an authority.

Commodore Herbert Hartley, past commander of the Leviathan, who spoke this week before the Woman's club of Santa Ana, will fill a second speaking engagement in the city on Jan. 21, when he will address the American Legion auxiliary at an open meeting at 8 o'clock in the evening at Veterans hall.

Plans for this next meeting, to which members of veterans' organizations and their auxiliaries are invited, were discussed at the unit session Thursday night, presided over by Mrs. Robert Sandon. Eight members of the unit have already signed up to attend the county council luncheon next Tuesday noon in La Habra, and others wishing to go are asked to make reservations with Mrs. Sandon.

The unit will serve two dinners next week, one on the thirteenth and the other on the sixteenth, it was announced.

Preliminary plans for the poppy poster contest, conducted by the auxiliary in the high and junior high schools, were launched at that time, with Mrs. Eugene Robinson as chairman and Miss Louise Tubbs on her committee. The unit voted a sum of money for prizes.

At the end of the evening, Mrs. Frank Mathews and Mrs. R. H. McCalla served refreshments.

The latter, who is a student at U. C. L. A., had as guests for some time her cousins Miss Jean Morgan and Miss Ruth Morgan, of Seattle, Wash. They had come south to join their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Morgan, also visiting from Seattle, and the whole group attended the Rose Bowl game.

Another visitor was Donald Limerick of Bakersfield, who joined Mrs. Bronson, her daughter, and the family for a holiday party. Miss Bronson returned to her studies this week.

Mead continuing to act as president, Mrs. William Castler as first vice president, Mrs. J. A. Crawford, second vice president, Mrs. J. P. Murphy third vice president and Mrs. Ashby Turner secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was an unusually delightful one, in the large and comfortable home of Mrs. Carl Klatt. After the business session had been conducted in front of a blazing fire, members took out their knitting and sewing and enjoyed a social afternoon.

At the end of the day, Mrs. Klatt asked Mrs. H. J. Lippitt and Mrs. Edelbert Johnson to preside, and with the assistance of Miss Bertha Klatt and Miss Rose Klatt and Mrs. Lippitt, her co-hostesses, served a delicious tea. Poinsettias decorated the rooms and table.

The next meeting of the society will be held at 2 p. m., Feb. 11, in St. Joseph's school hall. A moving picture film will be shown.

FOUR BIRTHDAYS
CLUB LUNCHEON

Yesterday's gathering was an especially auspicious one, marking the birthdays of four members who had celebrated within the week. Honored guests were Mrs. H. D. Melvian, Mrs. Mildred Taylor, and Mrs. J. W. Hancock and the hostess, who was celebrating her own natal anniversary, shared in the honors. Each was showered with gifts.

A delicious three-course luncheon was served at two small tables, centered with pink roses and ferns, and with places marked for the four honored guests and the Mesdames Margaret Church, A. N. Zerman, Anna James and Jean Bohlander.

Jungle Talk
Scheduled
By Club

Bringing with them another of their delightful animal and nature motion pictures, Martin and Osa Johnson, world famous travelers into out-of-the-way places, will present one of their unique programs of combined lecturing and motion pictures Monday, Jan. 18, at 2:30 p. m., at the Santa Ana High school auditorium.

The picture they bring this year was taken during a year's stay on the Island of Borneo and is one which they themselves consider the most beautiful photographically of any they have secured, and richer in human interest and laughter-inspiring sequences.

From their headquarters on the Kinabatangan river, the Johnsons journeyed by bamboo raft to the headwaters and then trekked overland through densest jungles, recording the exceptionally beautiful scenery, the strange manners and customs of the hill tribes, and the most interesting and making thousands of feet of motion pictures which show the wild animals in their native setting.

In Borneo, they found many varieties of monkeys, among them the strange proboscis monkey with the elongated nose, and the beautiful black and white gibbon apes, as well as giant orang outangs. When they returned to New York City last October they brought a large cargo of these animals, among them the largest orang outang ever captured, one weighing 300 pounds.

HOMOPHENOUS
CLUB HAS ELEPHANT PARTY

First social event of the year for the Homophenous club was a "white elephant" party given in the lovely home of Mrs. Joe Lovell, 926 North Olive street, Tuesday evening.

Tea was poured from "elephant" teapots when refreshments were served and much merriment accompanied the opening of the packages and the games of anagrams and bridge following.

High scores in the games went to Mrs. George Nash and Miss Marion Walker, who were rewarded with their choice of the "white elephants."

The color scheme was carried out in red and white sweet peas in the elegant vases, and the score pads and tallies were in the same design and colors.

The club welcomed a charming guest from Louisiana, Mrs. A. Barber, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ana Price Crawford, in Santa Ana.

Other guests were the Mesdames Harvey Groover, E. H. Lamb, Sidney Druce, Harriet E. Rurup, and Miss Marion Walker, all of Santa Ana, Mrs. Andrew Wilson of Costa Mesa, and Mrs. Geneva Schaffert of Orange. Mrs. George Nash and Mrs. Ruth Smith assisted the hosts.

Chat Awhile With Betty

By BETTY COX

Did you hear about the funny interlude at Stanford Women's club when Gail Sleeth Smith solemnly requested an addition to the minutes to the effect that she had been left in the pouring rain at Laguna Beach after the previous meeting—forgotten? Mrs. J. K. McDonald piped up with "But why didn't you go home with whom ever you came with—I wish I'd known"—and Gail replied sweetly, "Well—I came with you—"

Just before his first birthday party on his fifth anniversary, little Kent Jordan said truculently, "Mama, if these kids who are coming won't play 'savage' or pirate," they can go on home again—." They all stayed.

Whom would you suggest for the leading roles in the movie version of "Gone With the Wind"? Mrs. Edith Cloyes, who has won fame for her interesting reviews of it, suggests Margaret Sullivan for "Scarlett," Joan Bennett or Janet Gaynor for "Mellanie," Melvyn Douglas for "Ashley"—and this may surprise you—William Powell for "Rhett Butler." She poohs Clark Gable and Frederick March, who seem to be the popular choices. And she hopes to heaven that when they do film it, no one will try to talk with a Southern accent, just because it's a Southern story—and still speaking of the book, did you know that the authentic pronunciation of "Mellanie" is not with the accent like "platonic," but on the first syllable like "melancholy"—?

How many of you can remember your first train ride? I think all of us older people do, but there are just lots of children nowadays who have never ridden on a train—simply because they drive everywhere in automobiles. Ninette and Dud Wilson (Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Wilson) decided that they wanted their little Bobby Jo to have the experience (she's just four) so on New Year's day, instead of driving to Pasadena to see the parade, they all three took the train. Which was smart anyway, considering the traffic. But Bobby Jo was certainly thrilled, and the funny thing was that on the same train were the Carson Smiths, with their small Peggy and Bobby enjoying their first train ride. They ought to be well-trained children by now—or do you like puns?

Did you see Miss Mabel McFadden, Mrs. Calvin Flint, and Mrs. C. F. Smith in evening cloth at the Nelson Eddy concert? Why not let's all dress up for the next one?

Why, asked several discerning citizens after Nelson Eddy's concert Saturday night, was the stage in Santa Ana's new high school backed for the occasion with a screen splattered to represent plaster walls? We couldn't help but think, while peering at him against the glare of those walls, how much more appropriate a background for the handsome singer would have been plain velvet curtains, or just curtains.

A word about snapdragons: California snapdragons have been affected by a rust this year, we are told on good authority, even the rustproof strain, which has proved itself however more resistant than the non-rustproof kinds. So don't be alarmed if your plants blossom out with rust spots. They're all doing it.

They came from blustery Chicago to visit California's desert and found it fringed in snow—did the Carl Franks, who have been visiting their cousins, the Fredrick Elliotts of North Ross street, driving over the pass one day to Palm Springs, the four found the ground and trees laden with snow, just as in Chicago. Another easterner, who had come out at the same time as the Franks, arrived at Palm Springs with a wardrobe trunk filled with those white sport costumes labeled "smart for desert wear," and she has been long overdue since for the fur coat left back home in mothballs.

Weddings On Next Week's
CalendarMiss Turner Passes
Box of Candy at Sorority Meet

Earliest parties of 1937 find their inspiration in wedding bells, with a new crop of brides and brides-to-be stepping to the fore in the gaieties attending the launching of a new year.

The week just past saw the announcement of a Dec. 30 wedding and the passing of the traditional box of candy to reveal plans for another wedding "some time in June." Next week has at least two weddings of interest to Santa Anans on its calendar, as well as parties for those who will march to altars between now and next June.

Just before the turn of the year, at Wilshire Wedding chapel in Los Angeles, Allen Ludwick McDermott, well known alumnus of Santa Ana High school, took as his bride Adeline Cooley Kessler, attractive daughter of Mrs. Adeline Cooley Kessler of Coronado.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Ephraim Sedwick, brother-in-law of the bridegroom's father, with only relatives and a few close friends in attendance.

Rust Colored Dress
The pretty bride wore a fur trimmed suit of rust-colored wool and a corsage of flowers in a harmonizing shade. The little chapel in which the marriage vows were exchanged was banked with ferns and flowers of the season to form a background for the service.

After the wedding, the couple drove to the Norcorian club and then up into the mountains at Big Bear and Arrowhead for a week in the snow. They will establish their home at 6331 Honolulu drive in Montrose.

A graduate of Santa Ana High school, where he was president of the student body and active in track and football, Mr. McDermott later attended Stanford university, taking his A. B. degree there and affiliating with Delta Upsilon fraternity. He is now connected in a business way with the Gilliland Radio and Refrigerator corporation in Los Angeles. He has been a resident of this city since he was 3 years old.

The new Mrs. McDermott was graduated from Girls Collegiate school in Los Angeles and has been private secretary to the manager of a large insurance company in that city.

San Francisco
Miss Gloria Wood of San Francisco, who will become the bride next Wednesday of William Thornton White, jr., son of Mrs. James Irvine of Myford Road, Tustin, has been a much feted bride-to-be during this week-end and Mrs. and Mrs. Fagan, the latter arranging a Sunday evening party as the final of the series of courtesies.

On Tuesday, Miss Wood was accompanied at a luncheon at the Hotel St. Francis, when Mrs. Marion Crooks entertained some of the bridesmaids and a few other friends in her honor.

The wedding vows are to be exchanged Wednesday at Mission Dolores, and will be followed by a reception at the Fairmont hotel in San Francisco.

Wedding Next Friday
Another wedding next week, on Friday afternoon, will be that of Miss Irene Elizabeth O'Brien, daughter of Mrs. Eva B. O'Brien, and Harold Sylvester Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Case of Lemon Heights.

The rites will be performed at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother at 1216 South Flower street.

Announcement of their plans was made by the bride-to-be at a party just before Christmas given by her sister, Miss Helen O'Brien, at the family home, and several parties have anticipated the coming nuptials.

Miss O'Brien is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and a Junior college, and later took a nurse's training course at Pasadena hospital school. Mr. Case received his schooling in Capistrano High school and Davis Agricultural college of the University of California.

Passes the Candy
Latest to join the ranks of June's brides-to-be is Miss Georgia Turner who passed a box of candy to her Sigma Tau Psi sorority sisters Thursday night at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Herbert Hill.

The announcement revealed the coming marriage of Miss Turner and Max Wilson, son of the B. L. Wilsons of 1001 North Ross street. Miss Turner, who is the daughter of Mrs. M. A. Turner, now of Lido Isle, was formerly a resident of Santa Ana and attended the local schools.

Other parties are finding inspiration in the March weddings of Miss Mary Malsed and Newell Vandermast, who recently told their plans to friends, and Miss Marjorie Lauderbach of this city and Walter Blair of Corona.

"Prepare the Table, Watch in the Watchtower, Eat, Drink; Arise, Princes."

THORN in the FLESH

By GLENN L. THORNE

This week we look at the familiar story of Nicodemus coming to Christ, as recorded in the Gospel of John.

Nicodemus was one of the 70 elders of the Sanhedrin, each of whom was called a ruler. His coming by night has caused lots of speculation, but that is not vitally important to me. What is important, is that he came.

Jesus evidently anticipated his question, and answered it even before it was asked, by saying "Except a man be born again he cannot see the Kingdom of God."

"This was as difficult for Nicodemus to understand as it is for people of today. It was difficult to separate the physical from the spiritual, and that difficulty still exists. The physical still hinders in our understanding of spiritual truths."

But just because we do not understand is no reason for not accepting. For example, we all use and enjoy electricity and radio, yet who understands them? With all our boasts of science, there is so little we really understand. Jesus illustrated this with an simple matter as the wind. We all believe in the wind, we know it blows, but we know not "whence it cometh or whither it goeth."

So Jesus told Nicodemus we must be "born again" with new life. Heredity, environment, education, reformation, culture, etc., are fine, but without life we are dead—and Christ said "I am the way to truth and the Life."

So, as it has been said that "Water is not made pure merely by painting the pump," man's inner life must be transformed by a new life, and that life is Christ.

Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

The Last Supper.—Jesus directed his disciples to prepare the passover, and when evening came, He sat down with the twelve. "And as they did eat, He said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray Me. And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto Him, Lord, is it I? And He answered and said, He that dipeth his hand with Me in the dish, the same shall betray Me. The Son of man goeth as it is written of him; but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born. Then Judas, which betrayed Him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou has said."—Matthew 26: 21-25. Christ then blessed and brake the bread and gave the bread and wine to His disciples, an action from which the modern Communion service is derived. This illustration is from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures, engraved in 1625-1630.

Her topic in observation of the day will be "Religious Liberalism in Other Countries and Other Faiths."

"All of the great faiths of the world are giving birth to a new point of view in religious thought," she said today. "It is known as liberalism, and is born of the impact of modern knowledge upon ancient forms of superstition and dogma."

This address will take the place of a talk on recent experiments in mental telepathy which had been announced for tomorrow's services, and which will be given the following week.

PIUS PRAYS FOR WORLD PEACE

VATICAN CITY, (AP)—Pope Pius, improved but still confined to his bed with a variety of old age ills, sent this message today to the forthcoming Eucharistic congress in Manila.

"Pray for the re-establishment of peace in a world which needs it badly."

The Pontiff's statement was delivered to the Papal mission, headed by Dennis Dougherty of Philadelphia, by Cardinal Pacelli, Papal secretary of state.

Cardinal Dougherty was also presented with the Holy Father's gift to the congress—a gold and silver casket.

The mission was received by Cardinal Pacelli in his Vatican offices on behalf of the 79-year-old Pope, whose condition was reported "unchanged."

WEBB'S ERROR COSTS $400

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Attorney General U. S. Webb made an error last year, he disclosed today, and because of it four justices of the state district court of appeals in Southern California will receive $100 each.

Webb notified Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state, that a previous opinion in which he held that candidates to succeed themselves on the bench would pay the $100 filing fee was incorrect. Webb said further consideration of the subject convinced him in such cases the candidates were not required to pay the fee.

As a result of Webb's new ruling, the $100 fees will be returned to Charles Crisp, presiding justice, and E. W. Houser, Walton J. Wood and William C. Doran, judges of the state district court of appeals.

Appreciation for police guards furnished busy church crossings on Sundays was expressed today by the Rev. Harry Evan Owings of the First Baptist church in a letter to Police Chief Floyd W. Howard.

The letter thanked the chief for the guards, saying they were a great convenience to church-goers, and promised the Rev. Mr. Owings' cooperation in educating pedestrians in more care while crossing the streets.

TIGERS BESIEGE PLACE—Tigers have besieged the village of Hsuvlin in Kwantung province, China, for months, and the inhabitants declare that 60 men, women and children have been devoured. A number of families have departed, taking their possessions with them. Those that remain close and bar the doors of their houses every afternoon and at night, and at other times congregate in groups. Recently a housewife saw her neighbor walk into his kitchen, and soon afterward watched a tiger drag his body away and make for the hills.

It Can Happen Here

SUPERINTENDENT of Schools Frank Henderson certainly led with his chin when he ordered Mrs. Golden Weston to boot Lecturer Lewis Browne off the program of the department of adult education.

He left himself open to the charge of suppressing liberal ideas. And the charge is being widely made.

Mr. Henderson was well within his rights, of course, in striking Browne from the list. It's part of his job to check the speakers.

But the odd thing about the removal of the most popular (and unpopular) lecturer ever heard here is the way the school heads applied the shush-shush treatment.

Here's the whole story—and it's an open secret:

When Browne spoke here last year, he handed a few bouquets to Russia. This was a bad slip.

It happened at the peak of the anti-Red crusade which Willie Randolph Hearst was fanning up in order to sweep Franklin D. Roosevelt out of the White House and into the port of forgotten men.

A lot of good people got excited over the remarks. Brown was accused of being a stark, raving Bolshevik.

Several well-meaning citizens whose dander was way up tried to gag Browne then and there, but public opinion wouldn't stand for it. Most people didn't think he was a Communist, anyway.

But this year, when it was learned that the adult education department planned to bring him back, a number of those prominent and worried individuals called on the school boss and read the riot act.

The contract was cancelled.

And the newspapers dug up the story.

Just between us, we can't find any evidence that Browne is a Communist.

His speeches and his books don't show it.

He has a few radical and new ideas, no doubt—but so has President Roosevelt—and look what the people did for him last November!

Browne's stuff, in fact, seems rather tame compared to a lot of the campaign speeches.

It's almost like the federal forum talks.

Although his speech last year started a public row because of the Red scare—it didn't seem to leave any permanent scars on the community.

Business kept right on as usual—even got better.

Boys and girls continued to salute Old Glory and sing America in school.

And none of those grown-up folks who heard Browne started throwing bombs or waving red flags.

Most folks will be sorry if this censorship idea gets a foothold in the adult education department. Adults are supposed to be able to hear facts of life straight from the shoulder—without going to pieces.

Censorship of all things new or different is certainly not in line, moreover, with the best thought in education or with the ideals of American democracy.

Education should enlarge a man's mind with new facts and ideas.

And patriotism—the American kind—should encourage the liberty guaranteed in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

Let's have the truth—for the truth shall make us free!

And now that the anti-Red hysteria is fading somewhat, many fine organizations and leaders are affirming this stand. Among them most of the Protestant churches, all worthwhile educational societies and the national commander of the American Legion.

The Journal has no personal interest in Mr. Browne or his ideas. Far from it.

But we do think the majority of people believe in free speech and want to examine new ideas whether they agree with them or not.

And that Santa Ana citizens would rather see the Stars and Stripes floating over their school buildings than the Swastika.

Now that the marble machines are closed up, how do you place your money on Supervisor West's endeavor to get the rest of the board to adopt his set of resolutions?

No Need for Child Labor

IF YOU have a soft spot in your heart for the plight of little children who labor in mills and mines, you'll approve of President Roosevelt's appeal to 19 states to take speedy action on the child labor amendment.

The rest of the states needed to enact it as fundamental law—including California—have already ratified the act.

Incidentally, child labor has been slyly on the increase, as Mr. Roosevelt points out:

It is clearly indicated that child labor, especially in low paid unskilled types of work, is increasing. I am convinced that nationwide minimum standards are necessary and that a way should be found promptly to crystallize in legal safeguards public opinion in behalf of the elimination of child labor.

There's very little opposition left to the law. But even in Orange county we sometimes read articles which attempt to justify child labor on the grounds of economics!

As if there weren't enough unemployed men and women ready and willing to do all the labor needed in the world without putting harness on the youngsters!

The children got a lot of war toys for Christmas, but they are still behind the adult population in armaments.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Purely personal piffle: If any American tops Chief Justice Hughes for dignity, he's escaped my eye.

A fellow who carries his grandpa's hunting case inspires my confidence. No popular song duo has taken the place of Van and Schenck.

I know a gentleman of 74 who had had high blood pressure since he was 31 and is the life of the party. When I pass that Japanese art store Yamanaka's on the avenue I can't stop saying it. All of Gus Edwards' kid actors grew up to talk alike.

A yarn they tell about Brooks Atkinson, the critic: Looking out a ship port hole returning from Russia, he suddenly exclaimed to his wife: "Don't look now but I think this is Finland." I won $11 in the first poker game and have an unbroken record of never winning afterward.

Definition of a Shylock: A loan wolf. Jack Pearl's philosophy: To be known as a "regular guy." Absurd what a letdown most of us have after feeling a stranger's calling card and finding it not engraved. Most widely traveled lady I know: Hattie Belle Johnston.

For oblivion: Rodies, until performers risk their necks are decently paid. Dandy radio sermons: Those by the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick. It was only after visiting the homes of Bach, Liszt and Beethoven I ever had the slightest interest in classical music. A popular tune of which I never tire: "I Love Louisa." How we smiled when glum Brock Pemberton left a $40-a-week job on the Evening Mail to become a theatrical producer. Now look!

Newspaper stuff: The first time I ever sat at a press table was to hear a Samuel Gompers speech in Dayton, O. And did I take notes! The biggest story ever covered was the arrival of the Carpathia with the Lusitania survivors. And my city editor, R. E. MacAlarney, insists today it wasn't a bad job. My briefest newspaper job was on the City News in Chicago for 48 hours. Two days and I got the gate. Newspapers on which I tried to work and failed: The Kansas City Star and the Chicago Daily News. The most picturesque of city editors—E. Jesse Conway. Swiftest thinking managing editor—Ray Long. And the most accomplished reporter—Alfred Segal.

Memory: The day my sister took me to have my curls lopped and how she cried all the way home. Just a Little Lord Fauntleroy! Not long afterward I began taking mandolin lessons. Slick add up Noel Coward by Richard Watts, Jr.: "The gay malice of a darting wit." Suggestion for radio announcement: "Here's Edward Everett Horton all atwitter." Among newspaper writers admired and never met: Bill Corum, Walter Lippman and John McClain.

With a million the first order would be: Sedgwick, a two oz. jar of Beluga caviar with my soup tonight! If I had my choice, I'd curtsy to Clare Luce for the next waltz. Edna Ferber's not galloping a current play and you'd think she was Edna 20 years ago. Hollywood is doing the usual—putting a good performer like Bing Crosby in too many shows. Rylee Cooper, rebuffed as a cub reported at Columbia university, lectured there recently.

What a rebuke wise-cracking ladies all over the world received from Archbishop of Canterbury! Sight's never seen: Peggy Hoyt with her hair not perfectly coiffed, Clara Belle Wagoner galloping somewhere and Conde Nast needing a shave. Biggest celebrity gathering of the Yuletide: Roy Howard's Christmas afternoon egg-nog party and Bill Hawkins' dinner afterward. Frank Chapman is running Clifton Webb a close second in the Rortorial Sweepstakes. Dullest of the fiction detectives—Agatha Christie's Paul Poiret.

The first playwright I ever knew was Eugene Walter. He left our newspaper broke, rounded in two years later with spats, malacca stick, fur-collared coat and a wife who was the star, Charlotte Walker. The next six months every bird on the staff was secretly writing a play. My maternal grandfather ate a light breakfast at 5:30 a. m. and a regular breakfast with three kinds of meat at 7:30. Memorable sun-down walk: From Barbizon to Fontainebleau. Almost every fellow would like to look like Clark Gable in a turtle-neck sweater.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—This is the season in Washington when tiaras and top hats troop to the White House. The floor of the great East Room is slick and polished, the crystals in the huge chandeliers gleam like jewels, and the special staff of negro butlers are spick and span in newly-cleaned uniforms.

The pace of White House social life will be faster than usual this season. The President's trip to South America delayed the opening gun, and as a result has crowded the post-holiday calendar. Never has the demand been greater for invitations to the White House receptions. Though the affairs are far from exclusive the number of guests runs up to 2000 at a single party—the socially-minded covet invitations as if they were passports to paradise.

The St. Peter who stands guard at the door is grey-haired, matronly Mrs. Edith Helm. Mrs. Helm owns and personally manages a large farm on the Wabash in Indiana, and likes to call herself a dirt farmer. But Washington society knows her as a woman of eastern breeding, who uses tact when it will work and force when it won't.

When she closes a reception list, it stays closed.

"I play no favorites," says Mrs. Helm. "I never open the list for anybody."

She finds her job easier than it used to be, for the Roosevelts have been done with the practice of "getting behind the line." In previous administrations a select few were privileged, after they had shaken hands with the President, to step behind the cord and remain in the receiving room, looking with haughty superiority upon the other guests who were obliged to keep moving.

So Mrs. Helm rejoices that she has been relieved of the enormous task of separating the sheep from the goats.

THE BIG SHOT

Climbing into a taxi a Washington visitor directed the driver to take him to the justice department.

"I want the entrance nearest to Attorney General Cummings' office," he added.

"Is he in that department?" asked the driver.

"Certainly," he runs it."

"Huh," observed the driver, "from reading the newspapers I got the idea that J. Edgar Hoover was the big shot there."

NINE LIVES

If Comptroller of the Currency "Jed" O'Connor survives this session of congress, the proverbial nine-lived cat will have nothing on him.

Since 1934, three of the most powerful government agencies—the treasury, federal reserve board and the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation—have been after his well-groomed scalp. But the dapper Californian has foiled every attempt to abolish his office.

Its functions have been stripped to a point where the bureau is little more than an empty shell. Of its one-time many activities the only one still left is the examination of national banks. But to this strategic roll Jaffy, by means of canny wire-pulling and agile undercover lobbying, has clung like grim death.

Whether he can elude the axe again this session remains to be seen. Behind the scenes the knife is being sharpened, and this time his foes have an advantage they did not possess in the past. Legislation for a sweeping reorganization of the government is definitely in the cards and Jaffy's office is one whose continuance will be difficult to defend.

Jaffy's opponents have also piled up some potent ammunition against him. One of the most serious charges involves his chartering a Florida bank despite the disapproval of the Florida state banking commissioner, the federal reserve board and the deposit insurance corporation.

The bank applied for a license to the state commission and was refused. On the recommendation of the state agency the reserve board and the FDIC also turned it down. Whereupon the bank went to Jaffy and, despite the strong objections of the reserve board and the FDIC, he issued a charter. This approval automatically made the bank eligible to membership in the FDIC.

Jaffy's foes are also accusing him of applying pressure on national banks, through his staff of examiners, to oppose the wiping out of his office.

While united on the question of getting rid of Jaffy, the reserve board and the FDIC differ on which should absorb his function of examining national banks. The reserve board wants to have the power. But the FDIC, charged with the responsibility of paying losses, contends that it should be given the authority to supervise the stability of banks.

DIPLOMATIC ASPIRANT

An undercover movement is on foot to displace Michael MacWhite, Ireland's able and widely popular minister to the U. S.

If money can do it, MacWhite will be recalled and an ambitious rival, backed by an American fortune, sent to Washington in his place.

The contender is William J. B. Macaulay, a former subordinate of MacWhite. A one-time secretary of the legation, Macaulay is a dapper socialite and favorite with fox-hunting, yacht-owning Americans. Minister MacWhite has taken no pains to cultivate this class. He has the theory that he ought to get acquainted with the sons of Erin in this country—and he did. Wherever a group of Hibernians gathered—whether in Boston, Denver, or Butte—MacWhite was there making friends and furthering the cause of the Irish Free State.

No other foreign diplomat knows the United States as intimately as MacWhite.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

JAN. 9, 1912

NEW YORK.—The great marble nine-story building of the Equitable Life Assurance society at 20 Broadway, home of the Mercantile bank and trust company and the Koutz Brothers banking house, was destroyed by fire today. Three men lost their lives by leaping to the ground, and the property loss is estimated at $6,000,000.

One Man's Opinion

By R. F. PAINE

Writing upon the effect of recent events in New York upon the growth of communism in our country, Columnist Pegler opines thus: "No man, least of all one who has never worked, nor his father before him, deserves enough income to pay one of his divorced wives a million dollars a year, and the rich should have better sense if not more human conscience, than to squander from $50,000 to $100,000 on a debut party for a child. Correct this condition and the oppression and denials which it represents, and there will be no menace of communism."

Among the sentiments most strongly motivating the human animal is envy, blood-brother of selfishness. That there is hatred of the gilded crowd, stuffed in our economic and social systems is not to be wondered at. There's a certain effect upon the popular social viewpoint and evaluation of the status quo when men can afford to pay a million dollars for a change of wives and fathers bait the budding of their more or less beautiful daughters with $50,000 parties. Such things impress the masses as high class advertising of the need and justice of equitable distribution of this world's goods. Genuinely popular government can distribute wealth in a humane and patriotic policy, or with an ax. Two much for the few and too little for the multitude sharpens the ax.

have a native element that is getting to the point of willingness to try anything different once, even communism.

The Old Philosopher came in Saturday for the Sunday suggestion and remarked that in times of great distress men and women who seldom pause to consider things spiritual return to God to implore His help. It is a confession of the frailty and insufficiency of human resourcefulness, an admission of human dependency and limitations. It would indicate to seldom pause in the heart of mankind a belief in a Higher Power which takes a crises to arouse. It is quite noticeable, said the Old Philosopher, that men who have accumulated more than enough for this world's needs, recognize that the material is not sufficient. And, said the O. P., I'll be back one of these guys with more old-fashioned ideas, which the world has or never will out-grow.

For the time being political interest will be centered in the action of the board of supervisors. I'm not worrying about what they are going to do as they will do it whether I worry or not. And they have no position which I care to fill, even if I could.

Callers says he was directed to my location. I had been represented as the little Pollyanna, the friend in need, the peak of altruism, the president of the Helping Hand society. He wanted a job and couldn't do anything. He had no trade but hitch hiking. Been in the state a long time but in transit most of it. Before the interview ended I decided it was pretty hard to help a man who couldn't help himself. He wanted the legislature to repeal the law which requires a year's residence in the county. Before the conference ended he solicited the customary dime.

Nervous nights have been the portion of the citrus growers. Floyd Young can get an orange grower out of bed when the wife can't do it.

As a pertinent offering to the impending frost, Geo. Kidd displays red woolen underwear of the long variety, typical and comfortable of the period which they served. Many a time have I encased myself in the gray length variety, but the danger color was confined to socks and mittens. I can't imagine the girl or boy of today yielding to the investment in a pair of long, red woolen underwear, and in some cases none at all, but the kind of the long ago was common and warm. They always reminded me of a horse taken out of a race. They scratched. Styles change, and I presume there is something in the philosophy of getting used to a fashion, but it would take more than the whim of a movie star to put a pair on the average young person of today. But you must admit they are fine for mountain resorts.

Maybe the cigaret chislers will get discouraged. There is a kind now being offered which blows up. They won't hurt you, but they do diffuse considerable embarrassment. Not smoking, I am in no danger.

Having had a reasonably good year, and noticing the frequent references in this column about lunch invitations, St. Fluor melts into a sympathetic symphony, whatever that is, and threatens to come uptown some day and take me where the food is served. He says I can go the limit. Bet he will be surprised when I order a bowl of soup and a cup of coffee. But having some information as to the 1936 volume of St. Fluor's company I will have no hesitancy whatever in setting him back fifteen cents. He asked for it, and he can take it.

If you intend to go to the Iowa picnic next month do not go to Sycamore park, even if I did say so. You will have better luck at Lincoln park. That is where you will find the crowd.

And it happened thus: Autoist's battery gives up the ghost during a recent rain storm, so he sends in an SOS, giving location and cause of trouble. The garage man arrives and goes to work, taking out the battery on a car which later proved to belong to another party, and there wasn't anything wrong with it. By the time the correction was made the other fellow's car had dried out so the battery worked, and the garage man started back to town singing, "Merrily We Roll Along," but he didn't grin.

Ike Fields plants a hoof on a hydrant, and when I inquire if he is on the water wagon he explains that the pause is for the purpose of adjusting a shoe lace. The explanation was what I expected.

Answering an inquiry as to why he had absented himself from a service club attendance, Steele Field pointed to a lone tooth, and said he was waiting for the others so he could get his money's worth when the breakfast was served. It is rather difficult to make one tooth do all the mastication.
